Salmon Prospects Are Good

The Pacific Fisherman in referring to the salmon market says—

"The unprecedented strength of the market on Red salmon is causing unrestricted preparations for a large pack in Western and Central Alaska, and the rapid recovery of the pink salmon market with a splendid outlook for the new year has removed the lid in Southeastern Alaska, so that the entire northern territory is preparing to produce to capacity. Several new canneries have been opened and many that were closed last year will be reopened. All of the cannery ships with their supplies of tin plate, fuel, labor, etc., are now under way on their voyage to the north and from this time on until the beginning of the fish runs, the canneries will be veritable beehives of preparatory activity.

There are more new canneries and changes of ownership this spring among the Alaska plants than for a number of years past. Three new canneries will be opened for operations this year and others will be erected this season for operation next year.

In Southeastern Alaska three canneries will be opened which were not operated last season. These will be the Fidelgo Island Packing Company at Ketchikan, the Kasaan Company at Kasaan Bay, and the Excursion Inlet cannery, owned by the Astoria P. & S. Company.

School Year Ends

Wrangell Schools shut up shop for three months last Friday, after a very successful term. The year just closed has been almost peculiar in the absence of kicks and complaints, and the year closed with fully one hundred per cent. more children in attendance than it did a year ago. Miss Carhart, who has proven so satisfactory as principal during the year just closed, will officiate in the same capacity next year. Whom her assistant will be has not been definitely decided upon as yet.

Memorial Day Exercises

The exercises of Monday in honor of Memorial day passed off most satisfactorily, showing that the committee in charge attended to the matter in hand in a thorough manner. The weather was not quite all it might have been, but as the sun sometimes came out between showers, it was a decided improvement over that of a year ago. The program as published in last week's Sentinel, was well rendered and appreciated. Perhaps the most interesting part of it was the singing of the quartette composed of Messrs. Wigg, Lewis, Kluquits and Cutter. The program as rendered was:

ON WHARF—2 P. M.

M. F. Inman, presiding

Bugle Call - Foster Miles
Prayer - Rev. Clark
Oration - F. H. Gray
Song and Scattering of Flowers

Benediction

Mrs. Ensley Entertains

Mrs. Joe Ensley entertained in honor of Mrs. John Johnson at her residence on Church Street last Thursday afternoon. A large number of the friends of the departing guest of honor were present to wish her a pleasant journey to her new home.

Going To Telegraph Creek

A. J. Kalkins and son Ed. expect to get away for Telegraph Creek at an early hour Saturday. They will make the trip on their power boat the Black Fox. They have fitted it up especially for river work, and their acquaintance with the river, and the conditions existing there is such that they should make a quick trip. The Black Fox is equipped with plenty of power and should have no difficulty negotiating the stream. Leo McCormack and Bert Foot will likely go as far as the hot springs for bear hunting. Besides them the following will be passengers to Telegraph: Rev. T. R. Thormain, R. P. Thormain, Jim Roseval, F. Blitz, Dr. Emery.

Very Promising Gardens

A walk along Stikine Avenue is a pleasure these days. The gardens along that street are beginning to put on their summer dresses. Wm. Cook's small fruit and vegetables are a revelation of what may be accomplished in that line with a little intelligent effort, while the flowers in Mrs. Cole's and Miss Linhart's gardens would be entitled to praise anywhere. While on the garden question we feel that we would be doing an injustice if we failed to make mention of Mrs. Wigg's beautiful flowers in front of her residence.

Loses Esteemed Citizen

Monday of this week, Wrangell lost a valuable citizen, when Capt. John Johnson left for a new scene of operations at Tree Point Lighthouse, Alaska. Ever since the building of the Lincoln Rock light Capt. Johnson and his estimable wife have been residents of the town, and desirable ones, too. They liked Wrangell, and Wrangell liked them, but the lure of the old life at the lighthouses was too much for the captain to resist, and he is back in the government harness again. Tree Point light is located on the mainland, southeast of Cape Fox, on Dixon's Entrance, in the neighborhood of twenty miles from Port Simpson.

Ladies Will Meet

A MIGHTY GOOD ORDER

It was with extreme satisfaction that this paper received the news that President Taft had made the statement that hereafter all changes in officials in this district would be made only on the recommendation of the Governor of the district. This is as it should be. Alaska's Governor, whoever he may be, is the personal representative of the President. The President, and he alone, has the appointing and removing of the district's officials. It necessarily follows that the only logical course for the President to follow, is to depend on the recommendations of his personal representative.

This paper has not agreed with everything the chief executive has said and done since his induction into office, because in has appeared to us that at times Mr. Taft was lacking in backbone, but that charge falls to the ground in this instance, he not only had the backbone, but what is more, he stiffened it. In Walter E. Clark, President Taft realizes that he has a man on whom he can depend. He appointed him for the express purpose of clearing up the political situation here in Alaska, and until some one with a better standing than James Wickersham appears to show him his error in making that appointment, he will continue to pin his faith to Governor Clark.

Governor Clark is no worn out politician, smarting under past defeats and building to perpetuate himself in office in the future. He made the statement at the time of his appointment that he would accept the office for a couple of years or so, only. He has been here but a few months, and in that time he has accomplished ten times as much for the district as the man who is now trying to begrime him has done in the two years he has been in office, or could do were he continued there for another decade.

The Democrats in convention assembled at Juneau last week, refused to endorse Wickersham for delegate to congress, in spite of the strenuous efforts of Wick's managers to railroad an endorsement through. Better for them that they should have no standard bearer this year than that they should stultify themselves, and ruin any hope they may have for success in the future.

The weather promises to be good, the tourist season is almost here, don't you think it is about time you cleaned up your yard?

And now it is about time that someone said something about a Fourth of July celebration. Let us have one of the old fashioned kind, where everybody had a good time, and the lesson was taught to the rising generation of what the day means to all loyal Americans.

The official statement of the customs business of the Puget Sound district during April has been issued and shows a marked increase over the previous months of the year. The trade with Alaska shows a large increase over previous months and is more than half of the entire foreign trade of the district. According to the report the shipments to Alaska amounted to $1,555,299. The greater part of this amount was machinery to be used in the mines and salmon canneries.

Yellow Cedar for Navy Yard

The last Cottage City took out a shipment of yellow cedar lumber from the local mill, consigned to the government navy yard at Mare Island, California. This is the second shipment of this kind of lumber within a short time, indicating the possibility of building up quite a business in this commodity.

Charley Lowery and Walter Woodbridge returned from a prospecting trip Tuesday afternoon.

HAPPENINGS of INTEREST IN THE BUSY NORTH

C. W. Estes, deputy collector of internal revenue, is visiting South-eastern Alaska.

The Mt. Andrew mine near Ketchikan, will begin shipping ore again within the next week.

Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, will come to Alaska this summer to investigate the salmon industry.

A special term of the district court has been call at Juneau next Monday, June 6.

Andrew Griffin has been appointed postmaster at Richardson, one of the smaller towns on the Tanana.

The report that smallpox is epidemic in the towns on Portland canal is denied by the Ketchikan Miner.

Three members of the United States geological survey will make a thorough investigation of the Matanuska coal fields this summer.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In the United States Commissioner's Court, Wrangell Precinct, First Division, District of Alaska.

IN PROBATE

In the matter of the estate of J. W. Gano, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That I, F. E. Smith, of the town of Wrangell, District of Alaska, have been duly appointed Special Administrator of the above named estate of J. W. Gano, deceased, that letters of administration were granted to me on the 16th day of April, A. D. 1910.

All persons having claims against the said estate are required to present the same to me at Wrangell, Alaska, or to the United States Commissioner for the Wrangell Precinct, District of Alaska, with the proper vouchers therewith, within six (6) months from the date of this notice.

Dated at Wrangell, Alaska, this 19th day of April, A. D. 1910.

F. E. SMITH,

Special administrator of the above named estate.

SALE OF TIMBER. Ketchikan, Alaska, April 13, 1910. Sealed bids marked outside "Bid Timber Sale Application, April 11, 1910, Tongass" and addressed to the Forest Supervisor, Ketchikan, Alaska, will be received up to and including the 21st day of May, 1910, for all or any part of the live timber marked or otherwise designated for cutting by the Forest officer, and available for steam logging on an approximate area of 25 acres, on the shores of Dry Bay, just north of Thomas Bay, mainland, Frederick Sound, and within the Tongas National Forest, Alaska, estimated to be 300,000 feet B. M. of green spruce and hemlock saw timber more or less. No bid of less than one ($1.00) dollar per thousand feet B. M. will be considered, and a deposit of $100.00 must be sent to W. A. Langille, Special Fiscal Agent, Forest Service, Ketchikan, Alaska, for each bid submitted to the Supervisor. Timber upon valid claims is exempted from sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. For further information and regulations governing sales, address the Forest Supervisor, Ketchikan, Alaska.

A steampipe on the steamer Princess Royal burst recently, severely scalding several members of the crew.

The new steamer Alameda, of the Alaska Steamship Co., made the run from Seattle to Cordova in three days and ten hours.

A Cordova dispatch to the Seattle P.-I. says: Word has been received here that a party of probably three hundred colonists will leave Norway in a chartered steamer direct to Cordova during the coming summer.

A report from Fairbanks states that a canvass of the towns and creeks of that region shows that Leroy Tozier is the choice of the Republicans of the Tanana Valley for the nomination as delegate to congress.

One morning a man named Ono Manuel walked into the office of United States marshal at Nome and startled the deputy in charge by saying: "I've shot Sarantis Carllis, the proprietor of the grocery store on Front street, and I don't know whether I killed him or not." Investigation on the part of the Marshal's office revealed the fact that the man Carllis was dead in his store.

F. G. Jenmett, trustee for the Canadian stockholders of the Alaska Northern railroad, formerly the Alaska Central, in a letter states that no construction work will be done on the road this summer, or at all until the government decides on what the coal lands program is to be. He says that the present road will be kept in operation.

Dr. J. H. Mustard, the Nome candidate for delegate, arrived in the northern city the summer of 1905. He is a graduate of the State University of Kansas, and the Rush Medical school, Chicago.

SALE OF TIMBER. Ketchikan, Alaska, April 9, 1910. Sealed bids marked outside "Bid Timber Sale Application, April 9, 1910, Tongass," and addressed to the Forest Supervisor, Ketchikan, Alaska, will be received up to and including the 16th day of May, 1910, for all or any part of the live timber marked or otherwise designated for cutting by the Forest officer, and available for steam logging on an approximate area of 45 acres situated on the east and west shores of Kadakes Bay, Kuiu Island, and within the Tongass National Forest, Alaska, estimated to be 500,000 feet B. M. of green spruce saw timber, more or less. No bid of less than one ($1.00) dollar per thousand feet B. M. will be considered, and a deposit of $100.00 must be sent to W. A. Langille, Special Fiscal Agent, Forest Service, Ketchikan, Alaska, for each bid submitted to the Supervisor. Timber upon valid claims is exempted from sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. For further information and regulations governing sales, address the Forest Supervisor, Ketchikan, Alaska.

Got Three Bear

Alec Vreatte and Al. Spader are home again from their bear hunt at the mouth of the river. They report having had a most enjoyable time, and as they have three bear skins to show as the result of the trip, they certainly have no kick coming. Besides the skins they brought home some excellent views of the scenery in the region visited.

"Jack" Mantle was a Ketchikan visitor this week, going down on the Cottage and returning on the Seattle.

The Misses Zimmerman and McCormack were passengers south on the Cottage City Sunday. They will probably spend the summer in California, and teach in Eastern Washington this coming winter.

Three of Wrangell's citizens went fishing down at Pat's Creek Friday, but a mystery seems to surround the trip, and nobody has been able to discover how many fish they caught. No two of them have the same story to tell of the trip.

Frank Coulter and Frank Smith are home again after a six month trapping trip on the west coast of Prince of Wales. They brought in a fine bunch of skins.

JUST PUBLISHED

Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary, (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. On the old foundation a new superstructure has been built. The reconstruction has been carried on through many years by a large force of trained workers, under the supervision of Dr. W. T. Harris, former United States Commissioner of Education, and reinforced by many eminent specialists. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparing scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.

400,000 words and phrases.
6000 illustrations.
2700 pages.

Some Fine Calendars

"Jack" Worden, as probably everybody in Wrangell is aware, is "there with bells" when it comes to photography. This season he is putting his hobby to great use. He has secured the agency of a calendar publishing firm, and is mounting some exceptionally fine views of nearby points of interest thereon. If you are interested, ask him to show them to you some time, as they are well worth the seeing.

Adj. Smith was a passenger to Petersburg on the Seattle.

Messrs Borch, Bryant and Taylor arrived up from the saltery Tuesday evening on the Scripps. They came after a consignment of hoop iron and salt. They report that they have 2500 barrel staves out and are getting ready for business.

Mrs. Willson and T. H. McHugh, who had been in Juneau on business connected with the local mill, returned on the Cottage. Mr. McHugh left on the Alaska for Pillaa Bay, Monday evening.

The City of Seattle managed to drop another blade of her wheel on her present trip. The accident happened apparently without cause, within five or six miles of the place where the same thing occurred on her last trip north, just before arriving at Prince Rupert.

Portland Canal Railway

The Cassiar Construction Company Limited is calling for tenders for the clearing and grading of fifteen miles of the Portland Canal Short Line Co. railway. Tender will close on June 10 at Stewart, where plans and specifications are on file. Mr. W. H.
